

Judy Kearns Fine Art

Welcome to my show! Enjoy this collection of some of the things I love most, like standing outside and painting in nature or plein air painting. It is so peaceful to stand in a beautiful place for hours and observe the light changing, the sun shining, the breeze blowing.

I especially love being by the water. It is like playing with God, trying to catch the colors and the light as it changes. It is sort of like fishing, being present in the moment. This is something that Monet liked to do. Paint in his beautiful garden after the war. Churchill also found peace in plein air painting. Many of these paintings are done around the beautiful water and land in Maryland and Virginia.

I love to travel and paint. Some are plein air paintings I did while in Mexico, Greece, Rome, Spain, Hawaii and American Samoa.

Many of them are also done in and around Carmel Beach California. This is a lovely spot with wild ocean, coastline and cypress trees, and many galleries.

I will be offering two weeks of summer art camp at the Avalon school down the road in Wheaton on June 9-13 and June 16-20. The art camp is co-Ed and open to students from all schools. Find out more information and register at <https://www.brookewood.org/summercampsfirstdibs.html>

I also love to do portraits...seeing the beauty and mystery of each soul as they sit for a portrait drawing. I am inspired by the philosophy of Martin Buber who wrote about the I-thou relationship. I agree with him that each face represents a soul which is a unique manifestation of God.
